Corey Pleases Attorneys In Government's Dissolution Suit.

UNDER FIRE AT THE HEARING

Declares He Got Out of Steel Corporation as an Officer When Finance Committee Sustained Gary as to the Power of the President and the Power of the Chairman of the Board.

New York, Jan. 25.—William E. Corey, ex-president of the United States Steel corporation, on cross-examination in the hearing of the government suit to dissolve the corporation, divided his testimony so that about three-fourths of it vastly pleased the government attorneys and the remainder satisfied the attorneys for the corporation under fire. Mr. Corey testified, first:

That E. H. Gary did know of the existence of the pools in the various branches of the steel industry prior to 1904, although Judge Gary has testified before the Stanley investigation that when he heard for the first time in 1904 of the existence of the pools, he had given order that they be broken up at once. Mr. Corey said the judge not only knew of the pools, but had attended the meetings of the steel rail pool, the structural steel pool and the steel plate pools in the years of 1902 and 1903.

Following that he acknowledged that he got out of the United States

RECEPTION CUT OUT

Wilson's Inauguration Will Be Marked by Jeffersonian Simplicity.

Washington, Jan. 25.—There will be no inaugural reception marking the induction into office of Woodrow Wilson. The Democrats of the senate are charged with the responsibility of blocking the suggested public reception, which was to be substituted for the inaugural ball.

Mr. Wilson's inauguration will be marked by Democratic simplicity. There remains now only the inaugural parade, and some of the Washington people are fearful that this may be eliminated.

While the senate Democrats individually and collectively assume the responsibility of blocking the public reception, the fact is that Governor Wilson is indirectly charged with this also. His statement at Trenton that he would be "perfectly content" to have the reception cut out of the program is believed to have caused the Democrats in caucus to vote unanimously against the use of the capitol building for a reception.

FINLEY IN REAL EARNEST FOR TEST

READY TO PAY A MILLION

New York Man Would Test Friedmann Tuberculosis Cure.

New York, Jan. 25.—Charles E. Finley, president of the Aetna National bank, said that he is ready to pay $1,000,000 to bring to America the tuberculosis serum discovered by Dr. F. F. Friedmann of Berlin, if it can be demonstrated in New York that the treatment will cure 95 out of 100 cases.

To test the cure Mr. Finley proposes to hire a sanitarium in New York, possibly the old Polyclinic hospital, and treat 100 tubercular patients free of charge. The first of these patients will be Rex Lee Paris, a Princeton athlete of the class of 1908, who married his daughter and subsequently developed tuberculosis. Mr. Finley said that his interest in the cure had its origin in his consideration for his son-in-law.

LOOKING FORWARD LEADER OF HOUSE SEES GOOD TIMES

BUSINESS SAFE, SAYS UNDERWOOD

Tariff Cut Will Not Disturb Legitimate Trading.

CHAIRMAN ISSUES STATEMENT

Expert Law Not in Keeping With the Spirit of the American Constitution. No Intention of Cutting Rates So Low as to Affect Prosperity—Takes Exceptions to Intimations of the Opposition.

Washington, Jan. 25. — Chairman Underwood of the house committee on ways and means announced emphatically at the tariff hearing that there is no intention of cutting the rates of duty so low along competitive lines as to ruin the business interests of the country. He took exceptions to intimations he attributed to Republican members that the Democratic majority of the committee purposes to make rates that would disturb business prosperity.

The committee, which heard the testimony of many manufacturers and importers on the flax, hemp and jute schedule of the tariff, was not disposed to question the competitive character and luxury classification of many of the laces, embroideries and other articles in the schedule.

Underwood took occasion to agree that some of them, as to competitive status, seemed to have been sustained, which is in favor of approximately the same rates on many items.

The entire schedule is one of the most profitable in the whole tariff scheme, and produced last year more than $49,000,000 of revenue, with duties averaging about 45 per cent ad valorem. Some of these articles will be reduced to stimulate competition and bring revenue.

The Manila export tax on Manila hemp was questioned by the committee when the subject was brought up by Edwin D. Metcalf of Auburn, N. Y., a rope manufacturer. Mr. Metcalf said the duty was a relic of the Spanish regime in the Philippines and that the benefits of the refund allowed to importers in this country operated to the benefit of American consumers. Underwood criticised it as a bad law. It was suggested that an export law, anyway, was not in keeping with the spirit of the American constitution.

PARENTS INCENSED

Several Pupils Addicted to Cigaret Habit Are Suspended.

Florence, N. J., Jan. 25.—Declaring the state is only wasting its money in trying to educate cigarette fiends, Supervising Principal Mathias of the Florence public schools has suspended several boys addicted to the cigarette habit. This action was taken after a consultation with County Superintendent H. A. Flees, who visited the school. Parents of the boys are incensed and threaten to carry the case to the state commissioner of education, but it is understood that the state educational authorities will back up the Florence board and other local boards who take similar action.

WANTS TO SEE OUR LAND

KING WOULD VISIT THE UNITED STATES

Alfonso of Spain Particularly Anxious to Visit America.

London, Jan. 25.—King Alfonso of Spain is likely to pay a visit to the United States some time this summer. The Spanish government is now considering a proposal which emanated from the king himself, who has long desired to visit America. He has several times made similar proposals, which have been rejected by the government under the mistaken notion that the animosities created by the war between Spain and the United States are still warm, but since last year King Alfonso has been combating this idea and has been reinforced in his opinions by the personal experiences of Captain Vicente, the Spanish attaché at London, and other Spanish officers who visited the United States last summer.

When Alfonso was in England in August he sent for Captain Vicente and questioned him about his trip to the United States. He was particularly anxious to find out whether any animosity is felt in America over the Spanish-American war. Captain Vicente assured the king that when he visited the United States "it rained kindnesses" upon him.

Terre Haute, Ind., Jan. 25.—Eugene Debs was under $1,000 bond immediately following his arrest on a charge of obstructing justice by corrupting a witness in the government's case against the Appeal to Reason of Girard, Kan. The bond, given by the Socialist leader's brother Theodore and a brother-in-law, Arthur Bauer, druggist, stipulated that Debs would appear at the May term of the state court at Girard.

SIDNEY MAN SELECTED

Doctor Hussey Will Be Superintendent of Lima State Hospital.

Columbus, O., Jan. 25.—At a meeting of the building commission of the new state hospital for criminal insane, under construction at Lima, Dr. M. F. Hussey of Sidney, a member of the commission, was selected as superintendent for the new state institution.

The head of the Lima institution, who will take charge at once, is 55 years of age. He was born in Shelby county, taught school in his younger days and then was graduated from the normal university at Lebanon. During ex-President Cleveland's first term he served as register of government papers in Massachusetts. He then returned to Ohio and entered the Ohio Medical college at Cincinnati and was graduated from that school in 1891. Since that time he has been practicing medicine in Sidney.

"THE CUTE LITTLE DEVICE" ON TEST

DICTAGRAPH ON TRIAL

Demonstrated in Court That One Can Really Hear Through It.

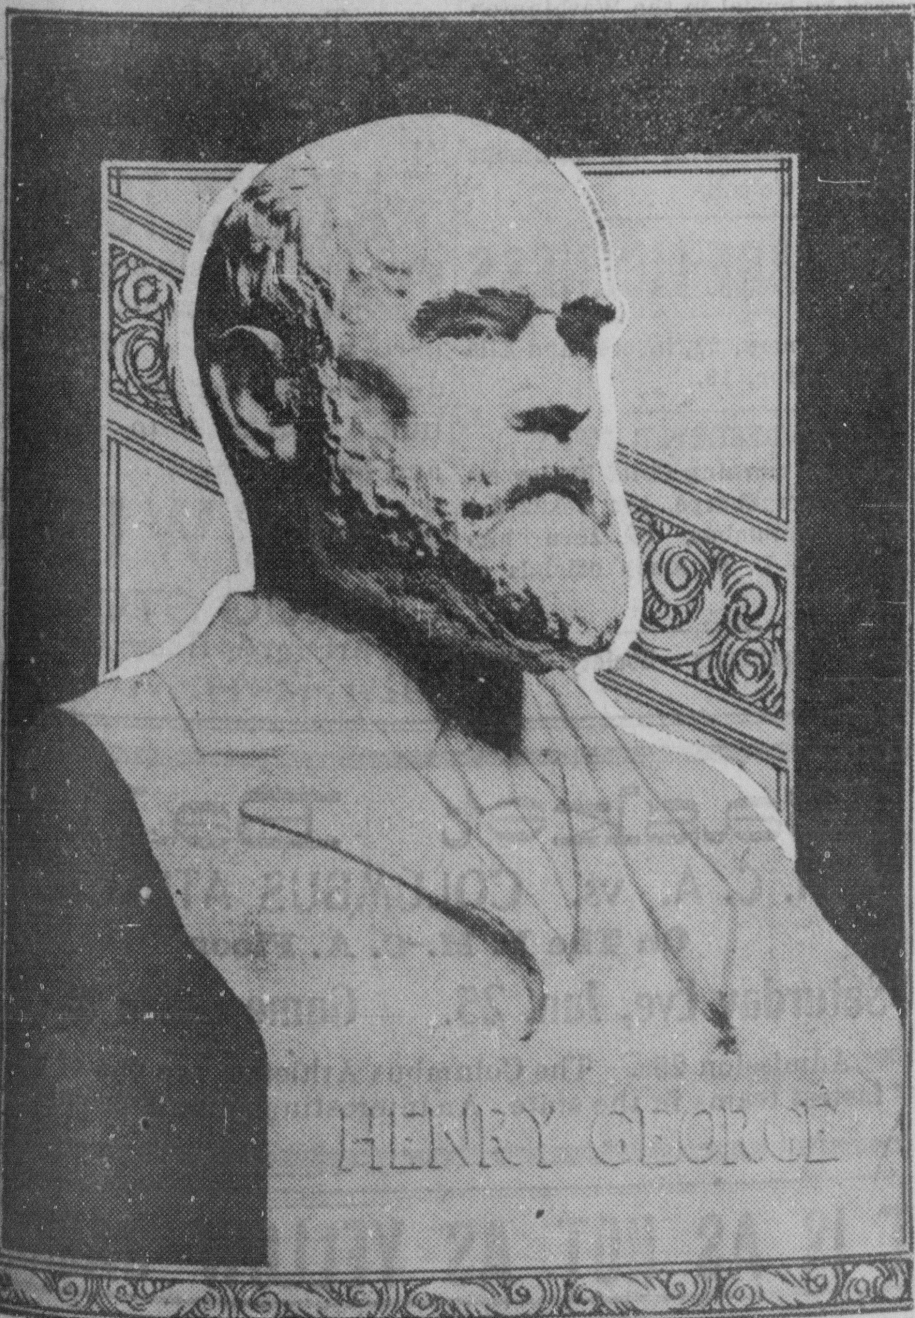

New York, Jan. 25.—The dictagraph had its day in court to prove to a jury before Judge Malone that one could really hear through it. The case on trial was against Mrs. Fannie Dio, a fortune teller, who is accused by Dr. Samuel Tarlich of attempting extortion.

The question before the court which brought the machine into play was whether or not the two detectives could have heard through the dictagraph the conversation which they were to be called to tell about. So George Read, a dictagraph expert, settled the transmitter back of the judge's chair and put the receiver in another room. He demonstrated to the satisfaction of the court by sending one of the detectives into another room, where he talked with him through the dictagraph so that it was possible to hear through it.

Bronze Bust of Henry George To Be Given to Many Libraries

HENRY GEORGE

BUSTS similar to the above of Henry George, the great single taxer, will be offered to many libraries throughout the country by the Henry George Library bureau. The life size bust in bronze was made by Richard F. George, second son of the author of "Progress and Poverty," and was presented to the New York Library. The bureau hopes to present copies of it to as many important libraries as possible. The philosopher of the single tax was born in Philadelphia in 1839 and died in 1897, leaving a heritage of good deeds and noble thoughts for the benefit of mankind. Henry George's beliefs have demanded widespread respect, and many will be glad that his memory is being thus perpetuated.

BACON LEASES FARM AND WILL MOVE HERE

Prominent Kentucky Horseman Is Soon to Move to Thornton
Farm, Near This City, Bringing Many Blooded Horses, Which Will Be Kept at the Fair Grounds.

Mr. W. A. Bacon, of Paris, Ky., who has been here looking for a farm, with a view to making his future home in Fayette county, has leased the Richard Thornton farm on the Greenfield pike, and will take possession March 1st, moving here and bringing with him some of the finest horses in the "Blue Grass" state.

Among the animals to be brought here is Locanda, 2:02, and is said to be the fastest horse ever bred in Kentucky. Another, "Wiggins", at two years old bore a record of 2:19 1/4 while Peter Billiken, a three-year-old, has a record of 2:16 1/4 over a half mile track, and a few months ago an offer of $7,000 for the horse was refused by Mr. Bacon.

In addition to the above trio of fine animals, Mr. Bacon expects to bring a car load of promising young horses and train them at the local fair grounds. All of the animals will be kept at the fair grounds.

Mrs. Bacon is the possessor of one of the finest kennels of Airedale terriers in the west and will bring her dogs and construct a modern kennel for them.

The Airedale is one of the most popular of the thoroughbred dogs of today and is especially esteemed in the East, there being many famous kennels maintained, and at the great dog shows the entry of this breed is one of the largest.

Mrs. Bacon's dogs are of the most fashionable breeding, and are well known all over the country.

Their accession will add to the sum total of pure-bred stock for which Fayette county is famous.

His Conscience Troubled Him

The following dispatch from St. Louis, Mo., appeared in the Saturday issue of the Cincinnati Enquirer:

"A man who says he is James F. Mansfield, 25 years old, of Washington C. H., Ohio, wanted for violating his second parole from the Mansfield (Ohio) Reformatory, entered a police station today and asked to be returned to Ohio. He said his conscience was troubling him. He was locked up."

Mansfield was sentenced to the reformatory some two years ago, and will probably be returned direct to Mansfield instead of being delivered to the local authorities.

Is Working On Sensational Case

Prosecuting Attorney McBride of Highland county, was in the city on Thursday, looking up witnesses in the Dr. Herbert Wilson case. The grand jury of Highland county will meet week after next and the prosecutor came here to secure whatever evidence there was, in order to lay it before that body.

The case involves the death of Mary Miller, an East End girl, who died at the hospital here. Previous to her demise, she made a death bed confession, in which she declared that an operation had been performed on her. She alleged that it was done by Dr. Wilson, at Greenfield.

At the time the case was taken up by the state authorities and Dr. Koons, an expert, was sent here to make an investigation. It was on the advice of Dr. Koons that the matter will be brought to the attention of the grand jury.

Dr. Wilson has continued to reside at Greenfield ever since the episode. He once sent an attorney here to look after his interests, but has never been placed under arrest. Prosecutor McBride declared that his action will depend entirely on the decision of the grand jury.

The Highland prosecutor informed local persons, that similar charges had been preferred against the physician on a previous occasion, but that influential friends came to his rescue and that nothing ever became of the case. An important missing witness in the Miller case has been located and informed the prosecutor that he would attend the grand jury session and tell all he knows.—Chillicothe Advertiser.

LUCKY YOUNG WOMAN IS WELL KNOWN HERE

Miss Flossie Wilcoxon, One of Trio Who Leaped From Burning
Factory Into Scioto River, Left
This County Recently, and Has Many Friends Here.

One of the girls who leaped from the fourth story of the Burdell pad factory in Columbus this week, while the factory was burning, and all other hope of escape was cut off, was Miss Flossie Wilcoxon, who, until recently has been making her home with her brother-in-law, Herschell Hankins and family, on the Langdon farm south of this city.

Miss Wilcoxon was well known in this city and has many friends here. She had been employed in the factory only two days, and has been making her home with her sister, Mrs. Chas. Schoonover, of Columbus, during her short stay in Columbus. Her home is in Wakefield, Pike Co.

Speaking of her narrow escape from death by fire and later from death in the chilly waters of the Scioto river, Miss Wilcoxon said: "I could swim and was not afraid of the water, but the people on the bridge told us not to jump. I was mighty lucky in escaping injury, but what is worrying me now is where I am going to get another job and how I am going to get a new coat to replace the one I lost when I jumped into the river."

One of the other girls who made the fearful plunge said:

"The first thing I knew about the fire was smoke pouring up the elevator shaft," she says. "We didn't think it was going to amount to much and some of us got our coats and hats. I guess about 14 girls worked in the rear of the building where I did. The room quickly filled with smoke. Flossie and Mamie were with me and we could dimly see the other girls getting out one window. I thought there was too much of a crowd there for the three of us to get out safely, so I decided to try another window. The other girls came with me.

"We got to this window and then out into a roof right under it. But the fire was right behind us. We stood there for a time and hollered, and people below cried back not to jump. We expected a fireman would soon come and get us. The other girls were badly frightened, and I was scared that we might not be saved. We stood there until we felt the roof getting hot under our feet; then I thought the best thing to do was to jump. I turned to the others and said: 'Well, I guess we'll have to jump.' I started, and I had my coat in my arms, too, and struck the water. My coat slipped from my grasp when I landed. The next thing I knew I was wading around in water almost up to my neck and saw the other girls splashing around near me," continued Miss Eal.

"I don't recall any particular sensation when I jumped, only that I knew there was nothing else to do. When they got me to shore I wanted to have a look at the fire, but they bundled me in an ambulance and took me home."

PLUMBER BADLY HURT BY FALLING TIMBER

John Happeney Has Hair-breadth
Escape From Almost Instant
Death When Timber Falls From Top of Masonic Temple and Strikes Him Upon the Head.

John Happeney, aged about 26 years, escaped instant death by a hair's breadth while at work in the Masonic Temple building Saturday morning, and is now at his home on West Temple street with an ugly gash in the back of his head where a heavy piece of timber struck him after falling from the top of the building.

Mr. Happeney, who is employed by Schneider, the plumber, was at work on the second floor, all unconscious of the danger from above, and had just been over to do some work when the piece of timber fell upon him.

A large gash was cut across the back of his head where the sharp corner of the timber struck him a glancing blow. He was taken immediately to his home, the blood pouring in streams, and a physician soon dressed the wound.

It is the opinion of the physician that if the timber had struck one inch further toward the center of his head, that it would have crushed his skull and caused almost instant death.

Mr. Happeney will be confined to his home for a week or ten days while the wound heals. He has suffered greatly from the pain and shock.

Human Inequality.

There is a notion, and a most pernicious one, that it is the highest realization of republican form of government that all the people should by some forcing process be made as much alike as possible. All human beings are born equal only in the single fact that they all come into the world by the same natural process. The same equality exists in the matter of death, since what we call life is extinguished for all under the same conditions. But that is all the equality that is possible, for human beings are all unlike and unequal in bodily and mental characteristics, and to such an extent does this lack of equality go that it is seen in the peculiarities of every individual.—New Orleans Picayune.

The Terpsichorean dance of last night was one of exceptional gayety and pleasure, with seventy-five couples in attendance.

The introduction of a fantastic new waltz, "Vision of Salome", with weird and pretty light effects made a tremendous hit and was encored again and again.

The music was splendid, furnished by a quartette of local musicians, Messrs. Horstman, Kneisley, Ramsey and Larimer.

The Elks are planning to entertain with The Troubadours' Orchestral Troupe in the I. O. O. F. temple on February 13th.

It will be remembered that the Elks formerly brought the "Troubadours" here and gave a concert, followed by a dance that was one of the most successful social events of the season. The return engagement of this popular orchestra and reader, Miss Ruth Pancost, will be pleasurable anticipated.

The concert program lasts until 9:15, when the orchestra plays a program of dance music for the remainder of the evening. The ball room orchestra series is very beautiful and will be enjoyed either as part of the concert or as impetus to the dance.

The Denison Glee Club concert, booked for the night of February the third, promises a treat as a musical entertainment, and is also of no small social interest. A number of the club are well known in Washington social circles and the former Denison students vie with each other in showing them courtesy.

It is really a Glee club which combines musical talent with dramatic ability and gives a versatile entertainment of which all who have ever been interested in Denison are proud.

CONFUSION IS RESULT OF CITY CLERK'S FAILURE TO CERTIFY ORDINANCES

Five Special Assessment Ordinances Passed By the City Council on November 7th Last Not Certified By City Clerk Flynn to County Auditor Until January 22nd.

The delay of clerk of council, Jas. J. Flynn in certifying 5 special assessment ordinances to the county auditor within a reasonable time bids fair to result in money loss to those against whom the assessment is made and will certainly, according to county officials, result in confusion and extra work in the office of the treasurer and auditor of the county.

The assessing ordinances are for improvements on Hinde street from Court to Paint; Fayette street north of East street; Fayette street between Pennsylvania tracks and creek bridge; North street, Pennsylvania tracks to the bridge and Main street from Pennsylvania track to bridge. The total amount included in the ordinances is $1,117.52.

These ordinances were all passed on November 7th, last, and if certified promptly, would have enabled the property owners against whom the assessments ran, to pay the installment due last December along with their general taxes.

Now those property owners affected by the assessment, who have paid their general taxes must be specially notified by the county officers that there is another and further sum due from them.

This will entail extra work on the officials and another trip on the part of the taxpayer to the court house, or in a delinquency on the books really not merited, because the assessments were not included in the charge against the property owner at tax paying time.

The five ordinances were passed by the City Council on November 7th, and were not certified to the county auditor by Clerk Flynn until January 22nd.

It will be recalled that State Examiner F. A. Jackson, in his report after the examination of the city affairs last year, reprimanded Clerk Flynn for his carelessness in certifying special assessing ordinances to the county auditor.

That the long delay is unnecessary seems to be indicated by the fact that two ordinances were passed by council on October 9, 1912, and certified over to the county auditor on October 16, 1912.

Business Of Railways Indicates High Tide

The high tide of business in the United States continues to be reflected in the railway statistics compiled by the Bureau of Railway Economics from the reports of the railways to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The returns for last November show an increase over November of the previous year, but do not maintain the ratio of increase displayed by the month of October; while operating revenues increased $122 per mile of line for the month, operating expenses increased $74 and net revenue only $48.33. Taxes were greater than for the previous November, amounting to $46 per mile of line. Operating income averaged $12.13 per mile of line for each day in November, an amount greater by $1.63 than for November 1911. This is the entire amount available to the railways for rentals, interest on bonds, appropriations and dividends.

For the five months of the fiscal year the net operating revenue per mile of line of the eastern railways, compared with the corresponding months of the previous year, increased 9.3 per cent.; that of the western railways increased 15.8 per cent, while that of the railways of the south increased less than one-tenth of 1 per cent.

For the eleven months of the calendar year the net operating revenue per mile of line of the eastern railways, compared with the corresponding months of the previous year, increased 4.8 per cent.; that of the western railways increased 7.4 per cent, while that of the railways of the south shows a decrease of 4.5 per cent.

Fake Agent Gets the Money

A large number of persons in upper Ross county would like to lay hands on G. H. Ullman, a man who visited that community recently, offering exceptional bargains in magazine subscriptions, taking the people's money, and so far has failed to give them anything in return.

Ullman represents himself as being agent for the Hanson Newspaper & Magazine Company, of Lexington, Ky. The man is believed to be one of a number of fake subscription workers who have been securing money under the pretense of sending certain magazines in return.

INTERESTING BITS OF NEWS

Mr. Dean Waddell, of Greenfield, a frequent visitor here, left this week for San Francisco, Cal., where he will sail for the Orient via Honolulu on a trip around the world. He will visit all the important and interesting places en route and expects to consume some six months in his travels returning home some time in July.

The Board of Health of Troy has entered into a contract for the collecting and disposal of the garbage of that city. Nine hundred and fifty dollars has been bid for the job for 11 months, the successful bidder to furnish his own teams but is to have all the garbage, which will be hauled to a farm west of town.

The B. & O. railroad company has abolished their old system of discipline whereby an employ who violated any of the rules of the company was suspended for so many days, according to the gravity of the offense.

By the new method adopted the men are not to be suspended but given demerit marks, so many of such black marks constituting grounds for removal, although faithful service may eventually wipe out their demerits.

The Circleville Light and Power Company has been given permission to issue $70,000 in 6 per cent. first mortgage bonds. The proceeds are to be used to retire outstanding bonds and reimburse stockholders for expenditures made out of the income used for the improvement of the company.

During the past season Licking county raised the best apples in the state, Lucas county next, and then comes Fairfield, according to the state apple show held this week in Lancaster. Cleveland and Dayton are in a race for the show next year.

Jamestown boasts of two publications that have world-wide circulation: Better Roads, edited by Hon. Jesse Taylor, a monthly magazine, and the Horse Journal, edited by W. J. Galvin. Both have a circulation of many thousands and are regarded as high class in their field.

The superintendent of schools in Lancaster has inaugurated a change in the system by which eighth grade pupils may enter High school in mid-winter. Friday morning thirty-three Freshmen began their new work. The various departments for the second semester were soon organized and with the addition of one instructor, that of English and History, no new teachers were provided for the large increase.

A petition has been filed with the City Council of Springfield by the Bell Telephone Company praying for the right to lay all their wires underground in that city.

A Xenia report that gained wide circulation telling of a number of Cedarville college boys who were caught drinking and gambling in a low dive in that city is pronounced to be wholly false. Marshal Kennon of the college town, made the raid and says the men were unknown to him personally, but that he has their names which he will furnish if necessary.

They were arraigned later and fined $50.00 and costs.

Diphtheria Causes Closing of School

The appearance of diphtheria in the Bookwalter neighborhood has resulted in the closing of the school at that place, and it will not be reopened until the epidemic dies out. The disease appeared several days ago, and the affair was taken up with the State Board of Health, which ordered every precaution taken to prevent a spread of the epidemic.

By rigid quarantine and the use of antitoxin the disease will soon be stamped out, as it always is in communities where it makes its appearance.

BY THE SWORD.

The terms of permanent peace which the Ottoman Empire has agreed to, leave the Turk but little territory in Europe.

The Turkish envoys, it seems now, since a final agreement has been reached at the peace conference, in fighting for delay, in resorting to every possible expediency which would postpone the inevitable end, during the whole of the negotiations for permanent peace, had as their purpose the preparation of the people of their nation more than to secure more favorable terms from the allied Balkan states.

The dissatisfaction of the Turks with their officials, is resulting in violence, breaking all bonds and is spending its force in riots, assassinations and refusal of the young Turks to consent to the peace terms agreed to.

The reports of the violence and disorder in Turkey, which are now coming to the outside world, in spite of the rigid censorship of the authorities, are conclusive that the purpose of delay failed to prepare the people of Turkey for the bad news, just as signally as it did to secure more favorable terms from the Allied states.

In agreeing to the hard but infinitely just terms which the Allied states imposed as the price of peace, Turkey has but a foothold in Europe left. The Ottomans came into Europe by the sword and it is the irony of fate that by the sword they are driven back out of Europe into Asia.

The Turks really have no place in Europe and peace will not be secure in the near east until the star and crescent of the Arabian prophet ceases to float from the gilded dome of St. Sophia and the great city of the Emperor Constantine passes once more entirely under Christian control.

The dismemberment of European Turkey begun and partially completed by the Allied Balkan states may be entirely completed by a revolt of the European Turks—the younger generation, which has been in touch with an enlightened civilization. It may be Turkey in Europe will be a memory only to people yet living.

Marvelous progress toward that very much desired end has been made during the last year.

APPRECIATED BY THOUSANDS.

There have been many bills offered to the present General Assembly of Ohio, with the urgent request that they be enacted into laws, designed to benefit the people of the state. It is safe to say, however, that in all the thousand and one suggestions of laws made and yet to be made, not one of them will be accorded a more popular reception by the people than the uniform school text book proposal which has now been formally launched and started down the ways by Senator Hudson, of the Portsmouth district.

Senator Hudson is a teacher by profession and enjoys an excellent reputation for efficiency. He knows whereof he speaks—knows that the present school text book system is much more than an annoyance, knows by experience that it results in a great handicap to the advancement of children in the schools of the state, and knows certainly that it is really an instrument by which money is literally taken from the pockets of the people who can least afford it to pay tribute to a school book trust.

The success of this nation, the marvelous progress of civilization and the higher moral scale is attributable to the free schools of the country. The young boys and young girls must be educated and they are educated.

Of late years, however, the people of Ohio have been compelled to admit that the bright boys and girls of the state under the present school book system were fast becoming such an expense to people of moderate means and modest incomes that schooling was, in many instances, cut short and the boys and girls sent to work.

Legislation will do away with the necessity of buying a complete new set of books for each and every one of the children in the family and new books for the whole family of children when the family is compelled to remove from one city or town to another, will result in incalculable good and relieve the people from an awful burden of expense.

Child Labor Good Thing if Not Abused

By LUTHER H. GULICK, Director of the Department of Child Hygiene of the Russell Sage Foundation

THE CAUSE OF UNREST AMONG BOYS AND GIRLS TODAY IS THE LACK OF CHILD LABOR.

Children are learning about work, but not doing it. At school they make kites and other things never used. In days gone by the child WORKED IN THE HOME, but today most of its time outside of sleeping, eating and dressing is spent in the public schools LEARNING HOW TO WORK.

This absence of work is the cause of the present unrest among boys and girls. The girls are absolutely foolish because of having this responsibility of work taken off their shoulders. There is no training about work that is equal to being UP AGAINST THE REAL THING.

WE MUST HAVE CHILD LABOR, FOR WORK IS THE ONLY THING THAT WILL GIVE THIS MORAL DISCIPLINE. IT IS ONLY THE BRUTAL ABUSE OF CHILD LABOR THAT IS INJURIOUS.

Poetry For Today

A NATIONAL ANTHEM.

God of our fathers, whose almighty hand
Leads forth in beauty all the starry band
Of shining worlds in splendor through the skies,
Our grateful songs before thy throne arise.

Thy love divine hath led us in the past,
In this free land by thee our lot is cast;
Be thou our ruler, guardian, guide and stay,
Thy word our law, thy paths our chosen way.

From war's alarms, from deadly pestilence,
Be thy strong arm our ever sure defense;
Thy true religion in our hearts increase,
Thy bounteous goodness nourish us in peace.

Refresh thy people on their toilsome way,
Lead us from night to never-ending day;
Fill all our lives with love and grace divine,
And glory, laud and praise be ever thine.

Big Order For New Equipment

The Pennsylvania railroad has just sent out inquiries for bids from freight car builders on the probable purchase of 12,300 freight cars, to cost about $16,000,000. Of these cars 10,000 will be additions to the system's equipment, while 2,300 will represent replacement. All new cars will be of 100,000 pounds capacity, where the worn-out cars only had a capacity of 60,000 pounds, adding about 40,000 pounds per car to the carrying capacity, or about 546,000 tons.

Present plans are to place 5,000 steel gondolas, 1,300 wooden side gondolas and 1,000 refrigerator cars on the system east of Pittsburgh, while the line west will get 3,000 steel gondolas, 1,000 wooden side gondolas, 500 refrigerator and 500 box cars.

These purchases will be in addition to orders placed last year, when a total of about $20,000,000 worth of freight cars, comprising 9,875 additions to equipment and 8,000 replacements.

Some of the new cars will probably be placed on the local branch of the Pennsylvania, although the present capacity of the cars is only 60,000 pounds.

Every member of the Home Missionary Society is urged to solicit their friends and neighbors for the rummage sale to be held on North street next to Dr. Rowe's office Tuesday, January 28, 9 a. m. Be prompt and send in Monday, or notify the ladies and they will send for same.

RAPID GROWTH OF OUR NAVY.

Rear Admiral Badger Takes Charge of Atlantic Fleet.

GOOD OUTLOOK FOR THE YEAR

Will Be Twice as Powerful as Squadron That Circled the Globe—Has Four Super-Dreadnoughts—First Division Broadside of 112,200 Pounds.

Washington.—Rear Admiral Hugo Osterhaus, U. S. N., successor of Evans, Thomas, Sperry and Schroeder as commander in chief of the Atlantic fleet, relinquished the greatest of American naval commands to Rear Admiral Charles J. Badger. Simultaneously with the change of command the super-Dreadnoughts Wyoming and Arkansas were added to the fleet, the former ship taking the place of the Utah as the fleet flagship. The Utah went back into the first division, while the famous around the world flagship, Connecticut, was relegated to the fourth division.

As reorganized the Atlantic fleet is twice as powerful an organization in every respect as was the fleet that circled the globe under Evans and Thomas and Sperry. Then there were no Dreadnoughts in the fleet. Today there are eight, and four of them are of the super-Dreadnought type—the Wyoming, Arkansas, Utah and Florida. As now constituted the first division of the Atlantic fleet is more than twice as powerful, offensively and defensively, as the entire American navy was at the time of the Spanish war. In this division alone the main batteries mount fifty-two twelve-inch guns, every one of which can be fired in a single broadside. In the event of war the Wyoming would fight with this division, which would mean a total of sixty-four twelve-inch guns to a single division.

If all these sixty-four guns were fired in a single broadside the total weight of projectiles, figuring each projectile at 850 pounds in weight, would be 54,400 pounds. The total weight of a broadside fired by the entire fleet—the number of twelve inch guns in the fleet as now organized being 132—would reach the huge total of 112,200 pounds.

The fleet as now organized is divided into ships of the first and second line. This is the new fleet, and the number after each ship shows to which line it has been assigned:

Wyoming, 1, fleet flagship.
First Division.—Florida, 1, flagship; Utah, 1; North Dakota, 1; Delaware, 1; Arkansas, 1.
Second Division.—Vermont, 1, flagship; Louisiana, 2; Michigan, 1; New Hampshire, 1; South Carolina, 1.
Third Division.—Virginia, 2, flagship; Georgia, 2; Nebraska, 2; New Jersey, 2; Rhode Island, 2.
Fourth Division.—Minnesota, 1, flagship; Connecticut, 2; Idaho, 1; Kansas, 1; Ohio, 2.

Rear Admiral Badger, who took command of the fleet, was relieved of duty as aid for inspections in the navy department to succeed Rear Admiral Osterhaus. He is a son of the late Commodore Oscar C. Badger and entered the Naval academy in 1869, being an appointee of President Grant. In the war with Spain he served on the cruiser Cincinnati. He also participated in the Greely relief expedition to the arctic and is both an ex-superintendent and ex-commandant of midshipmen at Annapolis.

JULY 4 ON NEW YEAR'S EVE.

Alaskans Have Fireworks Now Because Its Dark Enough.

Fairbanks, Alaska.—Fairbanks and central Alaska held their Fourth of July and New Year's eve celebrations together with elaborate fireworks, brought by the last steamer before navigation closed.

Summer twilight makes July fireworks displays impossible in this latitude, so fireworks were subscribed for last July, to be set off New Year's eve.

Thousands of miners came to see the show. Bonfires on top of the snow kept the multitude warm.

UPHOLDS TRADES UNIONISM

Roosevelt Dissents From Position Taken by Garment Manufacturers. New York, Jan. 25.—Ex-President Theodore Roosevelt spent several hours conferring with manufacturers in the white goods and other industries affected by the strike of the women workers, preparatory to taking measures for bringing about a legislative investigation into the conditions in these trades. He made a letter he sent to Assemblyman Schaap, in which he says: "I emphatically dissent from the position taken by Mr. Gordon, as a representative of the manufacturers, in their attitude toward trade-unionism. This position is in effect that taken a number of years ago by a certain gentleman in the anthracite coal trade and has since been known as the 'vice regent of God' position, the position that the employer ought to treat his employees well and handsomely—but should be held responsible only to God and his conscience for his actions—a position taken throughout history not only by absolute monarchs who were good, but by absolute monarchs who were bad."

three days' testimony witness had mentioned a number of incidents in which he had found himself fighting Judge Gary and H. C. Frick.

Second. Mr. Corey admitted that when he got out of steel his sentiments towards Judge Gary were not so cordial as they had been formerly.

Third. That he opposed the purchase of the Tennessee Coal and Iron company, even up to the meeting in the library of J. P. Morgan in the panic days of 1907, but he had acquiesced to make a resolution unanimous for several reasons. In this connection Mr. Corey, after saying that the price wanted by John W. Gates earlier was too high, coined the expression "nuisance price" to characterize it.

Fourth. He declared emphatically that during the existence of the steel corporation, beginning with its foundation in 1901 and ending with his resignation as president, when he had special knowledge, competition had "flourished like a green bay tree"; the capacities of the plants of leading independents had been doubled, the demand for iron products had doubled, and that when he got out of an executive position the steel corporation was producing and selling a smaller percentage of the total output than it was when it began in business.

Judge Gary's Denial.
New York, Jan. 25.—Judge E. H. Gary and other directors of the United States Steel corporation declared in the most positive terms that the managers of the company had no intention whatever of devising a plan for its voluntary dissolution. and charging the co-operation among financial interests to the so-called weak banking law framed by Henry P. Davidson of J. P. Morgan & Company, the house money trust committee closed for the time being its financial probe.

The statement of Mr. Davidson, presented by him as he left the witness stand, was an analytical argument, based on the tables and charts presented to the committee, "purporting to show control of $25,000,000,000 of resources by 180 directors." The statement denied this conclusion and set forth specifically that the firm of Morgan & Company "believes that there is no such thing, either in form or in fact, as a money trust." The committee did not allow the statement to get into the record as testimony, but at an executive meeting allowed it to be recorded as an "argument."

Mr. Davidson differed from Mr. Untermeyer, counsel for the committee, in his assertions as to the concentration and control of money and credits, and the lawyer was unable to shake the position of the financier.

James J. Hill, railroad pioneer of the northwest, was examined briefly as to his affiliations with various banks and railroads.

Robert Windsor of the firm of Kidder, Peabody & Company and Gardner M. Lane of Lee Higginson & Company, both of Boston, were examined as to the participation of their concerns with J. P. Morgan & Company, the First National bank, the National City bank and other New York financial institutions, in the marketing of securities.

Francis L. Hine, president of the First National bank of New York, was the last witness before the committee. Mr. Hine was questioned as to the practice of his bank, Morgan & Company and the National City in handling jointly issues of stocks and bonds. He said that participations in bond issues in his fashion were usually accorded to the banks in which he and other members of the issuing firms were interested. He saw no objection, he said, to letting officers of these banks underwrite a portion of the participation accorded their banks.

WIFE TOO PRETTY TO BE ALLOWED OUT.
Jersey City, N. J., Jan. 25.—In a divorce petition, Mrs. Ella J. Fryer avers she wasn't entirely pleased by her husband's assertion that she was "too pretty to be allowed out," because here is what she says he did to keep her in the house:
* Cut up all her corset strings.
* Cut up her shoe strings so they couldn't be made to do the duty of corset strings.
* Cut up her best dresses so she couldn't make herself attractive.
* Cut up her old dresses so she couldn't excite sympathy by wearing them.
* And then broke up the furniture so she would be ashamed to receive her friends at home.
* Mrs. Fryer, who is the mother of six children, thinks all of this entitles her to a divorce.

American Painter Kills Self.
Palermo, Sicily, Jan. 25.—H. M. Penhall, an American painter, formerly of San Francisco, committed suicide here. In his pocket was a note saying, "I want to die in Italy." It is believed that he came from Messina to Palermo and his baggage shows that he had recently been in Rome and Alexandria.

BRICKS THAT WILL LAST THROUGH AGES

Lost Art of Roman Brickmakers Said to Be Discovered.

Rome.—Giuseppe Giovannetti, a young Roman, who had already discovered a pigment for frescoes whose resisting power surpasses that of the ancients, has now discovered the lost art of brickmaking as practiced by the Romans 2,000 years ago. This is the opinion of experts who have tested bricks made by the Giovannetti system, which resists fire, damp, excessive cold and every other destructive element and apparently would last unimpaired for endless ages.

The secret has been given to the Italian government. Experiments being made with the new bricks tend rather to confirm than shake the most exaggerated reports of their durability. Building experts declare that a new era has dawned in the construction of large buildings. Contracts being made for all the new dwellings in Tripoli contain a clause stipulating that these bricks must be used.

DIVISION PLAN LEAST EXPENSE

For State to Wage War On Tuberculosis Menace.

OHIO HAS THE MACHINERY

Experience of Other States Will Give Ohio Working Basis For the Fight, Says Secretary of the Ohio State Board of Health in a Signed Statement.

BY E. F. McCAMPBELL, Ph.D., M.D.
Executive Secretary of the Ohio State Board of Health.

It is a well established fact, I believe, that the time has arrived for the state to take an active part in the nation and world-wide campaign against tuberculosis.

For years the Ohio Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis has waged war on the disease in this state. With the limited means at their disposal this society has aroused public interest in the conditions which foster the disease, and have pointed out the way by which it can be eradicated, and the high death rate cut down.

It has been found by other states that this work can be greatly extended and much better results have been secured when the machinery of the state is devoted to this campaign.

The question therefore resolves itself into: How can tuberculosis best be fought by the state.

The plan to center the fight in a Division of Tuberculosis, to be created as an integral part of the State Board of Health, all will concede, I believe, to be the best and most effective way to carry on the most effective work.

Practically the only other way considered for the state to wage such a campaign is through the creation of a special commission to direct the fight. This is entirely unnecessary, and unnecessarily expensive, for the state.

Should such a commission be created high-salaried men would have to be selected to serve on it, and a complete new department would have to be built up. Special quarters would have to be provided, with the attendant expense of clerks and maintenance; special laboratories would have to be provided and operated, and there would be many other things necessary which the machinery of the State Board of Health now provides.

Furthermore, the experience of Massachusetts and New York, where commissions were appointed to make preliminary studies of the field, affords ample cases for the work of the proposed Division of Tuberculosis without the necessity of going over the same ground in Ohio, as the conditions here do not differ materially from those obtaining in Massachusetts and New York.

POWERFUL ARGUMENT REDUCED TO FIGURES

Here is why the Ohio Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis will advocate the creation of a State Division of Tuberculosis by the legislature to direct the fight against "The Great White Plague."

In 1909 deaths from tuberculosis in Ohio numbered 6,844. Of this number 3,543 were males, 3,301 were females, 6,235 were white, 594 were colored. Of the white population, 5,852 were native born and 835 were foreign born. The disease is no respecter of sex, age, race or color.

In 1910 the deaths numbered 7,169, and in 1911 there were 7,049 victims of the fatal disease in this state.

"It is becoming too serious a menace for the state to longer neglect," says Dr. Robert G. Patterson, executive secretary of the Ohio Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis.

A Vanishing Lake.

Fresh evidence of the disappearance of Lake Tchad in Central Africa has lately been accumulated. Captain Tilho of the Anglo-French Boundary Commission says that the form and area of the lake have undergone great changes since the explorations of Barth and Nachtigal, 40 or 50 years ago. It is now navigable only in certain places, and boats frequently run aground. The tendency seems to be toward the development of a vast marsh on the site of the lake, although half a century ago its great waves in stormy weather gave it the appearance of an ocean.

Why a Horse Rolls.

Horses are fond of rolling on the ground and no animal more thoroughly shakes itself than they do. After a roll they give themselves a shake or two to remove anything adhering to the coat. The habit is of much service to horses living in open plains. On being turned loose at the end of a journey an Arab horse rolls in the sand, which acts as blotting paper, absorbing exudations from the body. A shake removes the sand, and the coat soon dries. Cavalrymen in hot climates sometimes put sand on their horses as the simplest and quickest way to dry them.—Selborne Magazine.

It is the custom of many business houses to tell each prospective employee very explicitly exactly what is and what is not expected of him before he takes his new place. Sometimes these directions are printed even in advertising for help, as in the following instance, taken from a London newspaper:

We will pay—so ran the advertisement—good wages to first-class, live stenographers who will allow our business to come before their sweethearts, theatres and pleasure parties; our hours are from 9 a. m. till 6 p. m., but sometimes we work later; clock-watches are useless to us.

Derivation of Exodus.

"Exodus" is the name of the second book of the Old Testament. It derives its name from the Greek word meaning going out or departure, and is so named because it relates the events connected with the sojourn of the Israelites in Egypt, their departure from that country and their wanderings in the peninsula of Sinai. Tradition for a long time ascribed the authorship of "Exodus" to Moses, but since the seventeenth century Biblical critics have given sufficient reasons for doubting this statement. It is probable that the book of "Exodus" is the work of several writers.

Invade Washington Farms.

The heavy snows in the Olympic Mountains drove herds of elk down to this section and have grown fat on the hay and straw belonging to ranchers. Farmers generally take the invasion philosophically and several of them have gone to the length of putting out fodder for the half starved animals. It is unlawful to kill elk in this State until 1915. In the meanwhile the elk may roam at will on the farmers' land. Many of the ranchers figure that by feeding and harboring the elk they may stay on their farms until after the closed season ends in 1915. Elk are more plentiful in the mountain regions than generally supposed and are increasing.

Our Own District Is Involved in Row Between Congressmen

Caucus Outside of Agreement Threatens Disruption of the Gentlemen's Agreement.

It is generally understood that some of the Democratic members of the Ohio delegation in Congress, who happened to be in Columbus on the day Governor Cox was inaugurated, held a caucus at which the proposed gerrymander or redistricting of the state was considered. It is also understood that there has been a sort of gentlemen's agreement which has held a number of the Democratic members of the delegation together in a pact to allow the redistricting matter to run its own course.

Our 5 Per Cent.

CERTIFICATES OF DEPOSIT ARE THE SAFEST AND MOST DESIRABLE INVESTMENTS—THE BUCKEYE STATE BUILDING AND LOAN COMPANY, RANKIN BUILDING, 22 W. GAY STREET, COLUMBUS, OHIO.

1. These certificates are secured by first mortgages on homes amounting in value to twenty-five million dollars. Home loans are the safest of all mortgage loans. Such securities afford absolute protection to our depositors. Our assets over $6,300,000. Write or call for booklets.

Rumor has it that the caucus on inauguration day at Columbus, with a view to bucking the line of the "gentlemen's agreement" pact. Prominently in the forefront was the Seventh-Eleventh district middle. Both of these districts are now Republican and both are represented by Democrats, J. D. Post, of Washington C. H., Ohio, and H. C. Claypool, of Chillicothe, respectively. Both of these congressmen it is understood, also, are not averse to once more succeeding themselves and the aim of the caucus was to frame a redistricting bill that would make one of the districts certainly Republican and the other certainly Democratic.

Mr. Claypool did not attend the caucus and loud outcry has gone up from his friends.

Further interesting developments are expected when the matter of redistricting the state comes up in earnest in the Ohio legislature as it promises to do soon.

Those Japs! After the Germans, the Japs, getting everything. Yankees are the greatest peanut eaters in the world—they would be, even if there were no circuses. In 1907 and 1908 Japan exported 17,000,000 pounds of peanuts and we took nearly all of them.

A HUGE EARTH DAM.

Belle Fourche Project Undertaken by the Government at Cost of $5,000,000.

The big Belle Fourche irrigation dam in South Dakota, is the largest earth embankment in the world. Construction of the project was authorized by Congress on May 10, 1904, at a cost of $5,000,000.

From an engineering standpoint the Belle Fourche project is one of the most interesting which the Government has yet undertaken. Its principal structure is the earthen dam. This wonderful dike, which closes the lowest depressions in the rim of a natural basin, is 6,200 feet long, 20 feet wide on top and 115 feet high in the highest place.

The inside face of this structure, which has a slope of 2 to 1, will be protected from wave and ice action by 2 feet of screened gravel, on which will be placed concrete blocks, each 4 by 6 feet and 8 inches thick. The cubical contents of this dike will be 42,700,000 cubic feet, or about half of the famous pyramid of Cheops. The reservoir created by this dam will cover about 9,000 acres, and will be the largest lake in the State.—Popular Mechanics.

CAME OUT ON THE OTHER SIDE.

Declaration That Put a Sudden End to Traveler's Yarns.

One of the occupants of a railway carriage was a gentleman who beguiled the time by telling some rather "tall yarns" of his experience abroad. A solemn looking individual, with a camera and a tripod, sat in a corner seat and listened without a shadow of a smile. The traveler, having concluded an impressive story, says London Punch, began again: "I never see a camera but it reminds me of a sad occurrence that befell a friend of mine while we were traveling in Italy. He was an enthusiastic amateur photographer, and when we climbed Vesuvius nothing would satisfy him but a near view of the crater. He wanted to go to the very edge. The guides told him of the danger. It was the last seen of my poor friend! Sad, wasn't it, sir?" he added, turning to the solemn man. The latter shook his head. "Do you doubt my word?" said the traveler. "No," returned the solemn man, "I don't doubt your word, but I fancy your memory is failing." "Eh? How so?" "Because," said the solemn man, slowly, and gravely, "because I am the man! And yet you don't remember me! I came out again on the other side of the globe—but I got my view!" There was dead silence for a few minutes afterward, and the traveler got off at the next station.

DAYLIGHT PICTURES

VICTOR The Foolishness of Oliver. COMEDY

FRITZI BRUNETTE and OWEN MOORE have the leads in this picture dealing in a rather conventional way with the youth who marries an actress and is disowned by his father. Owen Moore is a competent actor, and Fritz Brunette is pretty and intelligent and makes a very acceptable heroine.

CANADA THE BELLIGERENT

England Not Putting Much Heart in Canal Controversy.

Washington, Jan. 25.—That the Taft administration has probably had its last say in the discussion with the British government on the Panama canal controversy, was the opinion expressed in official circles following the publication of the note of Secretary Knox in reply to Sir Edward Grey's protest.

It is not believed that the British parliament will find it convenient to reply to Mr. Knox's note before March 4. The Knox note proved a great surprise here, and it is believed that it will prove no less surprising to the British. For this reason it is expected that Sir Edward Grey will be rather deliberate in framing his answer.

In many quarters the belief is confidently expressed that Great Britain will not care to pursue the controversy much further, as a result of Mr. Knox's note. Information has been received here that the British government is not putting much heart into the controversy and has but little real interest in it. The principal pressure on Great Britain is said to be coming from Canada, where the provisions of the canal act are much resented.

Determined To Change Election Machinery

SIMPLIFIES VOTING

Bill Places Presidential Electors on Separate Ballot.

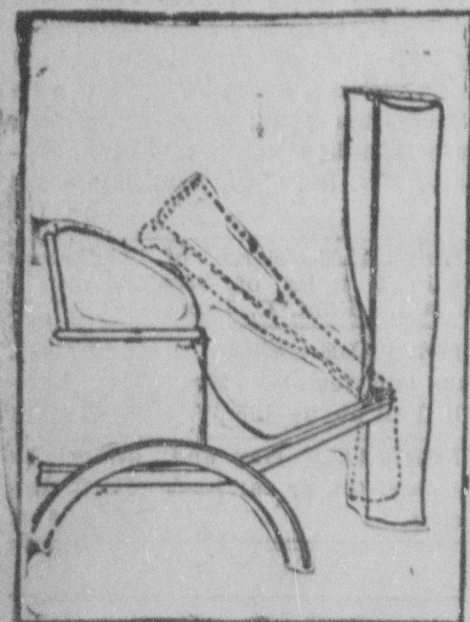

Columbus, O., Jan. 25.—Candidates on state and county tickets in presidential years can not hope to be carried through by the presidential candidate in the future if bills introduced by Senator Thomas M. Gregory of Cincinnati are enacted into law. The measures provide for the election of presidential electors on separate ballots, thus further carrying out the proposition to simplify voting. By Senator Gregory's plan "scratching" of presidential electors for personal reasons will be impossible. The whole list must be voted for en bloc, by marking in the circle at the top of the ballot. Blank spaces in front of each elector's name are not to be provided.

In the interest of employees whose wages are attached to collect bills for necessities, Representative Vollmer introduced a bill permitting such a debtor, if he earns no more than $75 a month, to assign 20 per cent of his wages to a trustee, who pays what is due in partial payments. The bill provides that suit can not be brought by a creditor unless his claim is disallowed by the trustee. The trustee is to be allowed 10 per cent for his services.

LAP-ROBE HOLDER.

Frame Fastened to Dashboard and Moveable Up and Down.

Lap robes have a disagreeable habit of slipping off to the ground and in cases where the occupant of the carriage or sleigh has occasion to leave the vehicle frequently the time required to arrange this robe is considerable. A Minnesota man has gotten out a holder for lap robes that seems to provide against these emergencies. It consists of a frame of rods that is hinged to the bottom of the dashboard and movable up and down. The robe is spread over this frame and when not in use the frame can be pushed up out of the way. On returning to the carriage the owner has but to seat himself, draw down

A School for Spiders.

"This is my spiders' school," said the young woman, and with a little stick she brushed a few webs from the wall. "Not much to look at, is it? Only a dozen rows of wine bottles, a great many spiders and a great many webs. I make, nevertheless, a little money out of the school."

"Spiders' webs are in demand among surgeons and among the makers of certain astronomical instruments, the surgeons using them to stop hemorrhages with, and the instrument-makers using them in certain very delicate instruments—instruments wherein, strange to say, a human hair would not take their place, because a hair is neither fine enough nor durable enough to serve the required purpose."

"Besides selling the webs I also sell the spiders. A corrupt class of wine-dealers buy the spiders. These men put them among bottles of new wine. I train the spiders to weave on bottles only—I tear down webs woven anywhere else—and it is amazing how quickly these well-schooled pupils of mine will cover a case of port or claret with cobwebs, giving to the wine an appearance of great age. Six spiders in a week will add two years to the aspect of a dozen bottles of wine. Hence you will readily see how valuable the ugly little creatures are to wine merchants of a certain type."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

RUNNERS FOR GO-CARTS.

Can Be Quickly Attached to Axles After Removal of Wheels.

The ordinary folding go-cart, which is practically useless on pavements and roads covered with snow, can be easily made valuable for use in such weather by the addition of runners, as shown in the accompanying illustration. The wheels are readily removed and the runners substituted, the latter being clamped to the front and rear axles. Instead of plodding along with the wheels cutting deeply into the snow the runners render travel easy and enjoyable. A go-cart thus equipped would also be far superior to a sled, as there would be no danger of the youngster slipping off. Another advantage is the fact that this go-cart can be folded up as formerly, in case the owner desires to ride on railway cars.

How He Found the Pole.

In the summer of 1908, accompanied only by my mother-in-law, I started out in search of the Pole. I thought it best at this time not to make any premature announcement of my intentions, as my mother-in-law was not feeling well and I was afraid that the notoriety might unnerve her.

We passed the winter in Greenland, where my mother-in-law knitted me some worsted neckties and a pair of sealskin suspenders. In the dead of winter we started north.

We both felt very confident of winning, as we had been practicing every winter for years of going sleighing in an old-fashioned New England sleigh. Having survived that, the Pole had no terrors for us.

On the 31st we reached the Pole. The journey up was rather tiresome, as my mother-in-law insisted on waking me up at 4 o'clock every morning and reading family prayers.

Utilizing a Glacier.

In France the Alpine glacier ice is spoken of as houille blanche, "white coal," because of the mechanical power supplied by the streams to which it gives rise. One of the greatest of these "rivers of ice" is the Glacier des Bossons, on the northern slope of Mont Blanc, at Chamouni. Lately this glacier has become a source or supply of ice for domestic purposes. More than 100,000 pounds of the glacier ice is sent to Lyons every summer. It is remarkable for its extreme purity. The ice is detached from the mass of glacier in blocks of suitable size by exploding gunpowder in drilled holes. Dynamite was tried, but it shattered the ice, and also imparted to it an objectionable yellow tinge.

Origin of Heraldry.

According to the highest authorities, heraldry finds its starting point in the totemism of prehistoric man. In the barbaric custom of painting or carving the totem on oars, the bows and sides of canoes, weapons, pillars in front of houses, etc., and in tattooing it on the various parts of the body, we have the real origin of the insignia that are so precious to the upper-tendom of to-day. It was in the ignorant superstition of the savage that he sprang from a crane or a bear or some other animal that the various "coat of arms" of the "big families" of the present time found their inception.

Battleship Victoria.

In the manoeuvring of the Mediterranean fleet off Tripoli, March 22, 1893, the battleship Victoria was sunk in a collision with the battleship Camperdown. Three hundred and thirty-eight officers and men were drowned, including Vice-Admiral Sir George Tryon. The findings of a court-martial blamed Admiral Tryon.

Motive of Sublime Rhythm.

A supreme love, a motive that gives a sublime rhythm to a woman's life and exalts habit into partnership with the soul's highest needs, is not to be had where and how she will; to know that high initiation she must often tread where it is hard to tread, and feel the chill air, and watch through darkness.—George Elliot.
